SASS needed a unicorn, a really big, well-equipped unicorn. The 2020 END of TRAIL had to be canceled due to the COVID quarantine and it looked as though the 2021 event, the 40th annual was also going to be canceled, and it would have been if it stayed in New Mexico. This was unthinkable. But the locations capable of handling this big a shooting event are very few, kind of like unicorns, really big, well-equipped unicorns.

In a matter of just a few months a new venue for only this year's event was chosen. The venue was described in the shooters book as "nestled minutes away from Warsaw, Indiana, and, through a maze of corn cropped farmlands lies a little slice of Cowboy Heaven called Paradise Pass."

CC Top (SASS #62639), SASS Board Member and the owner of the range picks up the story at that point. "The topic of 2021 EOT was discussed at an Advisory Board Meeting in January regarding if it could take place. The suggestion was to find a new location for 2021 since New Mexico was still in a state of lockdown in one form or another. It was not likely for the state to lift enough restrictions for EOT to be held. Some of the requirements talked about were — needed a state with a Republican Governor to increase the chance of being able to hold the event without undo restrictions, but while maintaining safety; a state that was not on lockdown or low numbers and a solid plan for 2021 for pandemic response if there was an increase in cases; a privately-held range so it was a sole individual's decision to hold the event versus a board that could pull the plug at the last minute if the situation got worse with the pandemic; a range that had the infrastructure, crew of volunteers, and the space; a range with good temperatures in June; local infrastructure to provide camping, hotels, food, etc.

“Misty took a couple days to evaluate options and then called me to ask if we could be the home for EOT 2021. She has been here on a couple occasions, knows we have a great team of volunteers, and met all the other requirements. We also already have Deuce Stevens (SASS #55996, Co-Match Director) on site seven days a week where We the People Munitions is located. Lassiter (SASS #2080, Co-Match Director) had been here dozens of times and was only a couple hours away.

“Also, it presented an opportunity for EOT to be east of the Mississippi for the first time. After a day of measuring and planning, Deuce and I determined it could work and contacted Misty to tell her that we would be honored to do it, but we needed to limit the number attending. Misty and the club felt 500 was a great number even though the range could hold more. Our reasoning was to provide a perfect event for 500 instead of an average event for 600, 700, or more. This whole concept was a very bold and innovative plan on Misty’s part, and we went to work right away.

“This was in February, and we had about 10 inches of snow on the ground so we couldn’t start work until the end of March, but everything was planned out in Crew meetings and we hit the ground as soon as we could, giving us about 100 days to get ready. Work wise we had 70-plus tri-axle loads of limestone brought in, leveled and compacted, painted every stage and made more than 60 new targets. We built new benches, unloading stations, picnic tables, and repaired many stages, fire pits, and bigger camping areas.

“Paradise Pass is extremely fortunate to have a massive volunteer group that we refer to as “The Crew,” totaling 32 SASS members plus several non-shooters or day labor help that pitched in from other clubs. We also loaned Paradise Pass some of the Two Bear Arms Gun Shop labor to cut trees and expand the camping, work on paths, targets, infrastructure items, and general grounds improvement. Many of the Crew worked remotely from home where they have workshops, and fabrication shops to build things more efficiently.

“One example: Several of the Crew spent a number of days at big Iron Bohannon’s house building all the new loading and unloading tables, benches, props, stage, 280 feet of portable fence, and picnic tables. They did it as an assembly line and knocked it out. Another Crew was at Montana Long-hair's building targets and stands. Another group worked from their home garages to produce fire rings, targets, portable fire pits, and props. Our Crew is amazing and is one of the main reasons Misty chose us, I feel. She knew with a Crew like this, anything could be done, and we were not going to let her or SASS down.

"Deuce Stevens worked seven days a week at producing the best match he possibly could from the design side and then would work on the ground with us every day. With Crew leaders such as Short Term Emory, Knucklebuster, Montana Longhair, Dusty Deputy, and Big Iron Bohannon, we are truly blessed and they and the Crew are the only way this was possible in such a short time.

"Misty rented a large truck and brought it from New Mexico in her first load to provide dozens of targets to use, props, infrastructure items, and logistical items. Then she brought another trailer load when she and Ruby Ruthless arrived several days in advance to perform their magic of setup. They went into EOT mode and transformed Paradise Pass with their finishing touches to create the perfect feel to the event. As a team, Misty, Ruby, Deuce, and the Crew were absolutely amazing. I've never enjoyed (and at the same time been so exhausted) anything more than preparing and hosting EOT. This shows the vision and the amazing lengths things can be taken with the right vision and leadership.

"Ninety-six hours after EOT the Crew had to reset the entire range (new stages and props), reset all targets, new tent locations for the banquet, switch the clubhouse from EOT items to State shoot items and then pulled off another amazing weekend for Indiana State 2021. We are truly honored to have hosted this event and our Crew poured their hearts and souls into this. This had an amazing by-product to it, and our already amazing Crew is now even closer as a family and are ready for anything. We thank SASS and especially Misty and the Advisory Board for the faith in us to accomplish this."

ONLINE REGISTRATION

SASS set up registration using interactive online registration. It was a very easy system to use, but there were only 500 spots and some were already taken by entrants of the 2020 EOT. (One was for a certain writer whom Misty thought was essential to write about the event for some reason.) There was a lot of online "chatter" indicating it would sell out. It did in a few minutes, pretty much crashing the system. When all the electronic dust settled there were 500 entries and about 150 on the waiting list. A lot of people couldn't even get on the waiting list.

THE RANGE

The Paradise Pass range is on the top of a hill and the parking and RV parking start by the main road and goes up the hill next to the access road. It is in a lush green area. The shooting bays are on the outside, with a white limestone road in a big kind of oval in the middle. Vendors were inside the road. Nearly all the bays were heavily wooded, and most shooting positions were covered. A green, moss-covered berm was almost invisible in the trees. In other words, this wasn't like any EOT ever.

WILD BUNCH

Wild Bunch is a match using .45 ACP 1911 pistols and magazines with up to seven rounds each, rifles of .40 caliber or larger (.38-40 is .40 caliber), and a '97 or Model 12 shotgun, which, unlike CAS, starts with the magazine loaded with up to six rounds (hammer down on an empty chamber, of course). It is meant to be harder than CAS. Yes, it is as much fun as it sounds.

All the work started paying off on Friday, June 18 with the Wild Bunch warm up and side matches. Side matches included what you would expect — 1911 speed pistol (Modern — most current carry pistols, and Traditional — looks like WWI and WWII, shot duelist), speed rifle, and speed shotgun. Additionally, BAMM Rifle (Bolt Action Military), and Sergeant York. The latter was new (to me at least). It uses a BAMM rifle and 1911 pistol. "Two rifle targets at 75 yards with six pistol targets at 25 to 50 yards. Start standing with rifle in hand, bolt open, chamber empty, five rounds in the magazine. You may use a sling for support. At the beep, alternate on two rifle targets for five rounds, starting on either end. Then make the rifle safe, draw the pistol and put one shot on each of the six pistol targets starting on the farthest pistol and sweeping to finish on the closest pistol target. Shortest time wins." The usual miss and procedural penalties apply. If you don't understand the historical background behind this match, watch the movie Sergeant York. Sadly, Gary Cooper used a Luger because the movie's armorer could not get a 1911 to work with blanks. Sergeant York, of course used a 1911.

The stages were written by Serenity (SASS #64962), but because of the quarantine she couldn't get here from Canada. Sixty shooters shot the main Wild Bunch match. On Saturday we shot six Wild Bunch stages during which roving judges judged the Wild Bunch Costume Contest. We shot six more stages on Sunday.

What was the Wild Bunch match like? Pistol targets were blue with white borders. Rifle targets were red with white borders. This continued for the CAS match. Of course, being Wild Bunch, we shot pistols at rifle targets on many stages. One stage had 42 pistol rounds and no long guns. The rest had from 21 to 35 pistol, with 28 being most common. Some had 28 pistol rounds, seven rifle, and six shotgun rounds. Nine rifle rounds were the most on a stage, and eight were the most shotgun rounds, split into four from each end of the building. A lot of movement was required, and a rifle reload was required on one stage. There were pistol and shotgun knockdown targets, but no dueling trees or aerial targets. The fact stages did not have berms between them made some of those impossible. For comparison, the 2019 match had 100 knockdown targets counting plate racks and dueling trees, and one aerial target, one swinger, and one charging target. The 2021 match did not suffer from the lack of those targets. It was a very enjoyable and still a World Championship worthy match.

At the awards ceremony much was made of the fact that, again, no one got the solid gold, diamond encrusted "clean match" unicorn trophy. It has been returned to the vault at an undisclosed location for possible future use.

WARM UP AND SIDE MATCHES

Monday was all CAS Warm Up. Two waves of three stages of warm-up matches were held. Deuce Stevens held a TO (Timer Operator) Class. In the evening the match hosted a sponsors and vendors welcome and appreciation reception.

Tuesday featured another CAS warm up match, side matches, and speed matches. The side match list was long, speed pistol, speed rifle, speed shotgun, pocket pistol, rimfire pistol, rimfire rifle, Derringer, and precision Derringer. Yes, that means they had a long-range Derringer match. I believe it was at 400 yards. Just kidding. You knew that, but that guy who complains on Facebook all the time didn't. The actual distance was a little closer than that.

Long range events were Single Shot Rifle – black powder, Single Shot Rifle – smokeless, Lever Action – rifle caliber, Lever Action – pistol caliber, and Buffalo Rifle.

PLAINSMAN MINI MATCH

Plainsman is essentially shooting CAS stages with a single shot rifle instead of a 10-shot repeater. Since the single shot rifles are usually considered long range rifles, a lot of match directors put the rifle targets out a long way. Chili Pepper Pete (SASS #11917), match director, knows Plainsman well and wrote four very good stages. The bays did not have enough room to move the targets very far out, so (relatively) small targets were placed near the berms. This worked very well. Twenty-six men and ladies shot the Plainsman match.

THE MAIN MATCH

The opening ceremonies were that evening. Since the international shooters couldn't get into the country because of COVID, the usual percentage of flags of all the countries was missing, but the national anthem was beautifully and movingly sung by SASS's own Ruby Ruthless. This year's crop of regulators was inducted. In case you didn't know, the Regulator badge is the only badge in SASS you cannot buy. It is awarded to you for your actions. SASS scholarship winners were announced. This is an extremely worthwhile organization. The recipients are the best of the future of SASS.

The opening ceremonies included food, friends, and fireworks. A Spectacular fireworks show concluded the evening's festivities.

Wednesday morning the three waves of CAS match started, 505 shooters in all. The stages were uncomplicated. The targets were generally close. I don't think the course of fire could've been any better for the contestants. A full 192 were first time EOT shooters, all excited to get to their first EOT — the first east of the Mississippi. Everything went close to the schedule without any major problems of note. That evening was the Cowboy swap meet and social hour with a lot of merchandise at 2021 prices, which shocked a few onlookers.

The daytime Shooting costume contest was handled by roving judges. They roved the stages all three days, which, I know from experience, is a lot of work. That is the most labor-intensive method of judging a costume contest. My hat is off to the judges.

VENDORS

Several of the vendors did very well. Gunsmiths Shotgun Boogie Gunworks and Boomstick Arms, as usual at EOT, had lines in front of their trailers most of the week. Mernickle Custom Holsters was hard to get into as well. The supply of their latest design shotgun belt disappeared like magic. Their new supply of screw knives was going quickly. Klassic Laser Works was engraving names and SASS numbers on them. Other leather workers included Michigan Rattler Leather, Two Guns Leather Company, Logos Leather Crafts, Colt Faro Leather, and Ed's Custom Leather. Shooters leaving with Work N' Ranch bags and D Bar J Hat boxes were a common sight. Both admitted record sales. Raj Singh headed the Eagle Grips booth with lots of colorful grips on the table. Their gun-fighter grips are a staple among SASS shooters. The addition of Kirinite, which is machinable and can be made into almost any color and is very grippy without checkering, has opened a new venue for them. Miss Tabatha and Madd Mountain Mike presided over River Crossing Inc., which makes some unique and authentic leather clothing apparel from the 19th century. A and B Enterprises (Ol' Number Four and Big Iron Buster) are dealers for the SliX-shot items they used to make. Taylor's and Company Firearms had a tent and, amazingly these days, some guns. Jim Downing, The Gun Engraver, didn't need boxes. His happy customers wore his work in their holsters or carried it on their long guns. Melanie Koenig, Sock Maker was knitting socks on a machine that turned them out very quickly. It was mesmerizing to watch. Other vendors were Protect Ur Ears, Fox Creek Stitcher, Gatling Gun Outpost, Bullets by Scarlett, Page Custom Knives, Fredericks of Deadwood, and Happy Trails Children's Foundation. Apologies if I missed any.

COSTUME CONTESTS AT THE 40TH ANNUAL ~ END OF TRAIL ~

The tents have been taken down and the RVs have driven away. The 40th annual END OF TRAIL® — the first ever to be held east of the Mississippi River — is in the SASS history books and with it the costume contests at the event. The competition for both Shooting Costumes and Formal Costumes was fierce, as it always is at EOT. Presented here are the final results and a selection of photos.

CATEGORIES

A lot of SASS competitors would be competing only against other people of their age group if they shot two handed smokeless. But what if they want to shoot, for example, Gunfighter? The online entry blanks for END of TRAIL now allow you to choose your age group in addition to your category. There weren't enough Cattle Barons (75+) for Cattle Baron Gunfighter but combined with Elder Statesman there were for Elder Statesman (70+) Gunfighter (11), Silver Senior (65+) Gunfighter (9), and Senior (60+) Gunfighter (9). There were still 14 in Gunfighter.

Seven in men's categories, or three in ladies' categories means you had a category at this World Championship. Yes, if you don't want to be in a senior category, you can compete against the 21-year-old lightning fast shooters.

As a result we saw Elder Statesman Duelist (14), Lady Senior B-Western (5), Lady Silver Senior Frontier Cartridge (3), Senior Frontier Cartridge (9), Silver Senior Frontier Cartridge Duelist (8), Silver Senior Gunfighter (9), Senior

Duelist (14), Senior Gunfighter (9), Lady Senior Duelist (3). That's 85. Some have told me they wouldn't be there if they didn't have an age category. (Keep that in mind in your event planning.)

There are people who are opposed to these "extra" categories. We call them young whippersnappers, and they need to stop snapping those whippers. This is called catering to your customers.

SOME DEMOGRAPHICS

In all, 193 shooters were less than 60 or chose to shoot against younger shooters; 115 shot in "open" categories that didn't have senior as an option (it is likely that most of those shooters were under 60); 197 shot in categories reserved for 60-plus. So roughly half of the contestants were younger than 60; and 20 Juniors and Buckaroo/Buckarettes shot. The largest category was 49er, with 37. The largest Ladies category was Lady 49er, with 21; 64 Men and Ladies shot gunfighter, counting FC Gunfighter; 87 Men and Ladies shot in "Frontier" categories.

This is a rare sport that has no upper age limit. With the size of Wrangler, it's likely "senior" shooters will soon outnumber the younger shooters. Most people get into the sport after the kids have left for college. It would be optimistic to think folks just out of

PET POLICY

From the Shooters program, "Pets must be leashed at all times (the only exception is Yogi and Bear – the two dogs that belong to the owner and call Paradise Pass home!)"

OVERALL MEN

For the fifth time in six years, Matt Black (SASS #54580) was first overall and first Cowboy. His time for the total of the 12 stages was 168.88 (14.07 seconds per stage). In 2017 it was 179.09. In 2018 – 180.7, and in 2019 – 181.77. As far as I can tell, 168.88 was the fastest time in EOT history. So he really is, to use movie terminology, the fastest gun in the west! Oh, wait a minute. Indiana isn't in the west. Switch movie, He's The Fastest Gun Alive. Does that work? Missouri Lefty (SASS #91721), First Gunfighter and second overall had 173.54 (14.46 seconds per stage), which, I believe is fastest gunfighter time at EOT. These times emphasize the fact that SASS competition is very tight. If you had the video technology to put all the top shooters' stages side to side, the finish would be as exciting as a tight Indy 500 or an Olympic race.

OVERALL LADIES

Bonnie Macfarlane (SASS #92385) was first Cowgirl and 16th overall – 222.88 or 18.57 seconds per stage. Second Lady overall and first Lady 49er — 245.72 — was Clancy (SASS #46433). Classic Cowgirl Hot Tamale (SASS #78531) won with 367.85. She is also famous for sponsoring a permanent stage at Founders Ranch, Hot Tamale's Cantina, and having some really neat Wednesday night parties there. I miss them.

CLOSE FINISHES

In Classic Cowboy, Santa Fe River Stan (SASS #36999) was 2.57 seconds ahead of Three Gun Cole (SASS #50738). In Silver Senior FCD, Stone Creek Drifter (SASS #58853) was 5.37 seconds ahead of Billy Boots (SASS #20282). Silver Spurs Charlie (SASS #90598) was 5.85 seconds ahead of Roscoe Ranger SASS #98627) in Elder Statesman. Rusty Remington (SASS #61821) was 2.07 seconds ahead of Billy The Avenger (SASS #92117) in Frontier Cartridge Gunfighter. In Silver Senior, Roy's Creek Dan (SASS #73697) was 4.64 seconds ahead of Doc Noper (SASS #65017). In Wrangler, Duke Skywalker (SASS #26871) was 0.29 seconds ahead of Sidekick (SASS #40914). In Lady 49er Missouri Mae (SASS #80828) was 1.63 seconds ahead of Shamrock Sadie (SASS #78511). In Lady B-Western Whirlwind Wendy (SASS #79889) was 0.13 seconds ahead of Sierra Starr (SASS #79267). Remember, this is 12 stages over three days. Several more were within 10 seconds, still less than one second a stage.

In addition to fast times, 136 shooters shot clean matches. This too is a record. This EOT was the fastest EOT in history. Fast times and clean matches make for happy shooters.

COURSE OF FIRE

One of the reasons for the fast time was the well designed and executed course of fire had fairly close targets and uncomplicated courses of fire. I always applaud a little bit silently whenever a stage can be read once by the Posse Marshal and then understood by the shooters. "P traps" are unnecessary because most shooters are perfectly capable of making their own "Ps" without assistance from the stage writer.

COLOR CODED TARGETS

The color coding of the targets helped. Rifle targets were red and revolver targets were blue. The white outlining helped Black powder shooters.

Smoke in the shade can be a pain in the score sheet.

KNOCKDOWN TARGETS

There weren't any.

BRASS PICK UP

A dedicated crew of "Brass Rats" from the Harrison Center Church worked for tips. They were happy and the shooters were happy, getting most of our brass back in a time when brass is hard to come by.

SHOOTERS PRIZES

As has become the most popular way to give out the shooters' prizes, shooters were given tickets, and jars for each prize were made available for those tickets. Then they were drawn Wednesday night and posted for pick up on Thursday or Friday. Future match directors, please note. Compared to having the numbers read out one by one over the course of an extra hour at the banquet or the awards presentation, this is like drinking fine champagne compared to drinking fine bleach.

Additionally, $8,875 worth of firearms, two Ruger Vaqueros, a Taylor's 1873 rifle, and an SKB 12 guage double, all competition prepared by Shotgun Boogie, were raffled off.

LADIES OF COWBOY ACTION SHOOTING (LOCAS)

At the opening ceremonies LOCAS honored Black Hills Barb (SASS #34171) of Pennsylvania with the Legendary LOCAS award. At the Saturday awards ceremony Scarlett Darlin' (SASS #96680) was named Cowgirl of Honor.

SATURDAY NIGHT

The Best Dressed Costume Contest was held shortly after shooting stopped and because of the large turnout took a couple of hours to judge. This is a good thing... unless you're standing up in a heavy wool uniform outside in the heat and your category is last. Don't ask me how I know.

After the banquet, Wild Bunch and side match awards were given out. Then it was time to party.

THE LONGHORN SALOON

Misty Moonshine and Crew brought the Bar and the Longhorn from the saloon at Founders Ranch. Howlin' Wolf and Crew tended bar as they did at Founders Ranch. It was popular, closing finally at 0400 Saturday morning. The saloon is remaining at Paradise Pass.

SATURDAY SHOOT OFF AND AWARDS

The shoot off went without a hitch, as did the awards. I'll note that Justice Lily Kate (SASS #1000) arranged an all-Texan table. It was a lot of fun, but I was counting on one of my friends hearing my name and I realized they were all somewhat deaf, too, and I almost missed getting my buckle. Many men who grew up in the 60s are hearing impaired now, either from too much loud rock music, or artillery and small arms fire, sometimes both. Note to future EOT and National Championship committees, just assume everybody over 60 is somewhat hearing impaired and handle the sound system accordingly. Also, there's a technique to calling the names. Instead of, "THE WORLD CHAMPION OF TRIPLE FRONTIER DUELIST IS mrty crvts," use what I call the T-Bone Dooley method (because that's the way he does it, and I can hear the names), "The World Champion Triple Frontier Duelist is YOUURR NAAAAME HEEERE." Yes, all caps mean shouting.

THE END

And then it was time to say goodbye to our friends, walk down the hill, set the car navigation to "home" and drive through the maze of roads through the corn fields to the road home. We always say there's always next year, and there will be, but we know that this one was one of a kind. It will always hold a special place in the hearts of everyone who was involved. You're already a skilled SASS competitor. So what about practical shooting? Practical shooting is the sport that simultaneously measures the ability to shoot rapidly and accurately with a full power handgun, rifle, and/or shotgun in a fun, fair, safe and competitive environment. Three elements - power, accuracy, and speed - form the three sides of the practical shooting triangle. Each match measures a shooter's ability in all three elements.

IS SASS AN INDIVIDUAL OR TEAM SPORT?

They say, “it takes a community to raise a child” — and in SASS, “its takes a posse to run a stage.”

It's very easy to think of Cowboy Action Shooting™ (or most shooting for that sake) as an individual sport, but the reality is it requires a team of people to ensure we perform at our best, safely and enjoyably.

In pistol shooting we usually just focus on us at the line and the RO. In CAS, unlike most other shooting sports, the TO/RO (down here in New Zealand we call them ROs) is there to help you through the stage rather than just to manage safety and punish you for indiscretions. The official line is “to safely assist the shooter through the stage.” They are there to help you.

In fact the RO II manual takes it a step further and states on page 7, “The Range Officer should make every effort to safely assist the shooter through the course of fire by coaching when required or requested, and giving appropriate range commands, if necessary.” So the RO is really “on your team.” Even before we step up to the line they will have checked that all the targets are set up properly, the stage is safe, and the spotters are ready.

Then we have the spotters, sometimes a thankless task because people only remember when a spotter gave them a miss. The spotters are probably more important than the RO, because they can see a much wider view of what's happening (the RO is focused on the shooter and the firearms), so can see indiscretions like misstepping etc. Here again, the spotting mantra is designed to assist the shooter, “If you're sure it's a miss, it's a miss, If you think it's a miss it's a hit, If you think it's a hit it's a hit.” Spotters are also there helping you along, so now your team is four people.

Not everyone likes to RO, or even to spot, and we're encouraged to not do them if we don't feel confident. Both roles require a knowledge of rules and the course of fire, and of course concentration and vigilance.

Now we all want the targets set up properly for us to shoot, our brass back, and someone on the unloading table to expedite us unloading safely and putting out guns away. And that's where the rest of the posse come into their own. In an efficiently working posse, those who aren't doing spotting or RO-ing should be helping with the other tasks, all of which ensure we the shooter can concentrate on doing our best on the line.

So it's really a team sport. But nobody likes team members that don't pull their weight. In the same way that when we are at the line we want the rest of the posse to do all these things so we can shoot, every other member of the posse wants the same when it's their turn.

CAS is a very social friendly sport, probably the friendliest I've encountered in any shooting discipline. It really is a Cowboy Family that we are part of. Lets all do our part to keep it that way.

SKINNY'S SOAPBOX SEASON'S END

It's late November 2021 as I'm writing this and the Cowboy Action season is winding down or done for most of the country. This was a good year, with most matches starting to rebound from the COVID scare and get back to normal. Sadly, the final Winter Range — early in the year — did not make the cut, but END of TRAIL's 40th Anniversary match did come about and was one of the most fun I have attended, thanks to the diligence of Misty Moonshine and SASS and in no small part thanks to The Paradise Pass Regulators, Etna Green, Indiana.

As the season winds down, I always find it enjoyable to attend late year matches with some of my less-used but interesting CAS firearms. Typically I shoot Rugers and a Marlin, but late in the year I will sometimes dust off a pair of 1851 conversions and a '66 or '73 in .38-40 to play with. If I'm feeling really daring, I may even use a double-barreled shotgun with hammers. (I'm terrible with it but it's fun to try.) What's most important is it keeps the “fun factor” alive. Give it try sometime at end of season. If you have a pair of cap and ball revolvers, shoot them at a monthly match. If you have a Henry rifle that you just had to have simply because it's “cool looking,” give it a try. You may have the most fun of the year.

TRAILMARKERS

When I reflect on the number of Trailmarkers that have appeared in The Cowboy Chronicle this year — eight in this issue alone — I must bow my head in memory of the fine individuals, many of them personal friends, who have passed on. Cowboy Action Shooting™ is an aging sport and even though we do induct many youngsters into our ranks every year (seven SASS Scholarship recipients this issue), there are also many who drop out for age-related reasons. Sorry to say, we'll all eventually get there. That's why it's important for all of us to do our best to encourage new shooters to give our sport a try. Just about everyone who tries it enjoys it. Remember, as new shooters they will be slow and they will make mistakes. Try to support them through the awkward times and urge them to continue on. Stress the “fun,” even for someone not shooting well just yet. In the long run this will pay great dividends to Cowboy Action Shooting™.

TEAMWORK

Bald Eagle — one of our Cowboy Action Shooting™ compadres from the beautiful country of New Zealand — has a guest editorial in this issue in which he discusses the importance of teamwork in our sport. It's an obvious truism and one of which we are all quite aware, but sometimes the obvious needs to be reiterated in order to keep it in the forefront of our minds. So yes... read Bald Eagle's editorial, pay close attention, and at the next match you attend make the extra effort to help out on your posse. If you don't feel comfortable running the timer or spotting then don't. If you have a hard time picking up brass then don't do it. But almost everyone is able to mind the loading or unloading table. Step up to do one of those. If you do — even for a short time — it will help your posse enormously. I have been on posses that were the first to finish a match, even though they were comprised of some of the slower shooters, and that was because it was an efficient posse on which everyone pitched in.

CELEBRATING THE NEW SASS HEADQUARTERS

On November 20, 2021, the Single Action Shooting Society® officially swung open its doors in its new location in Akron, Indiana. The date was marked by an Open House and Reception held in its new home — an historic bank building located at 102 East Rochester Street in Akron, built in 1900.

In just three short months, a devoted team of SASS member volunteers from the Paradise Pass Regulators in Etna Green, Indiana worked tirelessly on demolition, clean up, construction, carpentry, plumbing — you name it — to rebuild and remodel, all with the goal of bringing this treasure of a building back to life... and SASS to its new home in Indiana.

SASS is poised for success and excited to usher in the next chapter for the organization in its new home in Akron — and we are thrilled to be a part of this amazing community that has welcomed us beyond expectation.

Be sure to stop by and visit YOUR SASS World Headquarters next time you are in the area. Our new extended office hours are Monday to Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Eastern time.

ANNUAL MATCHES

ARKANSAS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP 2021

BY NAILDRIVER, SASS #59139

Fort Smith was called Hell on the Border back in the day because of the rather less than accommodating facilities that Judge Parker kept at the federal jail. But at this year's Arkansas state match, held in Fort Smith/Van Buren, AR in western Arkansas, there was mostly heaven but with just a little bit of hell dished out, mostly by shooters to themselves on mistakes they made at the firing line!

Arkansas springs can be as cantankerous as an ol' Winchester '97 but the weather this year was as smooth as any shooter's slicked up gun of their dreams. The weather started a little chilly but a few minutes around the campfire by the match office or a good cup of Arbuckles and you were all set and by lunch time the spring day was as pretty as a just-born Razorback Hog.

Judge Parker's Marshals has a fine assortment of permanent-built stages themed around our local history, including a fort, Miss Laura's social club (look it up!), and of course, Judge Parker's gallows. All of our stages have plenty of cover, seating and just fun places to hang out. All of the stages are on flat accessible ground so those with walking difficulties can easily go from stage to stage. Plenty of parking is available as well as room for campers and vendors, who were more than happy to accept some greenbacks in trade for much needed Cowboy/Cowgirl gear that you know we all must have. This was also the first year for our brand new permanent bathroom facilities. They were much appreciated!

ARKANSAS WINNING BUCKAROOS.

LADIES OF COWBOY ACTION SHOOTING (LOCAS).

Shooters, vendors, and volunteers from more than 10 states began arriving Thursday for all the standard side matches, which got the competitive juices flowing and the smoke rolling.

After the introductory remarks by club President and Match Director Naildriver, the match began as always with a canon shot and 205 registered shooters went to work at the jail, caboose, mercantile store, church house, corral, gallows, Miss Laura's social club, and the jail where challenging and creative stages allowed varied starting positions and targets both moving and standing still. We had both shoot 'em fast stages and ones that make you think just a little, making the 10 stages fun, competitive, and always keeping you on your toes.

Saturday ended at our covered pavilion with a dinner of smoked chicken and brisket with all the trimmings — enough to satisfy even the hungriest hombre. Our club works hard to be civic minded and our lunches were served by a local church and Boy Scout troop with proceeds going to help a local food pantry. The awards banquet at Saturday lunch included a Dutch oven cobbler buffet that caused some Cowboys and Cowgirls to need a nap from the wonderful sweets before the drive home loaded with great door prizes, items from the shooters rummage sale/swap meet, new vendor items, and some hard earned trophies and beautiful buckles.

Missouri Lefty (SASS #91721) was the was overall men's winner, while Gunslinger Grace (SASS #81768) bested all the other lady shooters. C.S. Brady (SASS #63699) took home the Arkansas State Men's Championship, while Fired-Up Fannie Sue (SASS #106650) was our Lady Arkansas State Champion.

The great facilities and success to our State Championship is due in large part to the many active volunteers we have. Our club has a special award that is bestowed on volunteers who go "above and beyond." While the award has a somewhat dubious moniker (the "Hangman's Award"), this year it went to faithful club member Will Butcher who is at just about every workday possible and is an all-around good cowpoke. One of the great things about this sport is the people you meet and get to work beside, and it is great to be part of a club that has such great people.

Next year Judge Parker's Marshals has the privilege of hosting the SASS Southwest Regionals and we promise you don't want to miss that! The dates are March 24-26, 2021 in Van Buren, AR just outside of Fort Smith, Arkansas. There are plenty of great places to stay or camp as well as wonderful restaurants. Be sure to add an extra day to spend touring historic Fort Smith and Judge Parker's courtroom and gallows. The Southwest Regional will be a two-day match with both morning and evening shoots. We will also host a Plainsmen event. as well as all the side matches you can prepare for. With our wonderful facilities, fun historical stages, and Arkansas hospitality we are confident you will be glad you saved your primers for this event!

COMANCHERIA DAYS 2021

BY YUMA JACK, SASS #11261
PATRON LIFE
SASS REGULATOR #51153

By April 2021, things seemed to be going back to “normal,” whatever that was going to be post-COVID. At least that seemed to be the case for Comancheria Days 2021, the annual match initiated in 1995 by Mike Harvey (Texas Jack, SASS #5148), owner of Cimarron F.A.Co and Texas Jack Wild West Outfitter. To satisfy local government health and safety concerns, rules were announced in advance emails regarding the voluntary wearing of masks and social distancing during the match and other activities. Some schedule changes were made, such as canceling the Friday night dinner cookout and side match awards, and the man-on-man shootout on Sunday morning. But despite concerns about virus contamination and the rescheduling shuffle, the match was completed by 184 shooters who bravely made the journey, from all over Texas as well as from 16 other states. The tradition of this “Old West” shootin’ match has endured now for 26 years.

The match actually began on Wednesday April 7 when Range Officer (RO) Classes were offered by Texas Jack Daniels (SASS #8587) and continued on Thursday. President and Match Director Asup Sleeve (SASS #90965) and Club Vice President Burly Bill Brocius (SASS #102476) apparently put in their weather requests early and got some good Texas Hill Country weather for the match. Starting with cool and breezy mornings and warming up pretty good in the afternoons. Almost perfect Texas weather!

Thursday was side match day starting with a four-stage Wild Bunch mini-match. Other Side Matches, including Fastest Rifle, Revolver, Shotgun, Derringer, and Pocket Pistol were available for all to challenge or use as warm up for the main match. Long Range competition also occurred on Thursday along with a Bolt Action Military Match (BAMM) featuring Sniper and Combat scenarios. The day ended with a three-stage Plainsman mini-match.

Despite the complications added by some lingering COVID-19 issues, there were vendors to assist emptying anyone’s pockets. Alex’s Tacos and Buzzie’s Bar-B-Q cooked up breakfasts and lunches Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Leather goods were on sale by Lone Star Leatherworks. Boomstick Arms was there to provide gunsmithing expertise, and additional shooting supplies could be had from Cimarron Bullets. Art, jewelry and other “Do-Dads” were available from Dirty Sally and Serenity Products. Entertainment products were promoted by Garrison Brothers Distillery, and Lean Dog Productions. Representatives of the Texas State Rifle Association (TRSA) were also on hand to promote that organization. Also contributing as vendors were Joe Darter and Two Spurs, Grit and Grace Designs, and David Coonrod. Match commercial sponsors included Bond Arms, Dillon, Kirkpatrick Leather, Rugged Gear, Starline Brass, and Muehlstein Insurance Agency. And of course, the main match sponsor was Cimarron F.A.Co and Texas Jack Wild West Outfitter again for the 26th year.

The Main Match started on Friday with everyone shooting five of the ten stages. Blazing Saddles — “mounted shooting” on a saddle-clad oil drum on a length of track — with traditional Cowboy revolvers or a 1911 with a magazine change at full gallop was also offered after the Main Match stages on Friday. The remaining five stages were shot Saturday. The stage scenarios were designed and written by Match Director, Asup Sleeve.

The stages were not all typical left-to-right revolver, rifle, shotgun sequences. Three stages required moving right-to-left and two more stages also specified the order for using the firearms. The remaining five stages could be negotiated in any direction starting with any firearm at the shooter’s discretion, the only restriction being the rifle could not be used last. The stage shooting sequences ranged from Nevada and Progressive sweeps to more sophisticated combinations of sweeps and double taps including an 1866 Sweep. Shotgun targets could be engaged in any order on all stages and two stages required moving with the shotgun between two sets of two targets. Revolver and rifle target sequences were the same at all but two stages. On one stage the revolvers were used to engage tombstone falling plates, and on another the revolvers and rifle were used to execute the 1866 Sweep (more about this sweep follows).

My most memorable stage was my next to last, Stage 9 at the Dentist's Office. But not because it was my best. Let me explain. The stage instructions required the revolvers and rifle be used in any order in an 1866 sweep. Four targets were arranged in a slight diagonal moving away from the firing line. The targets were to be engaged starting from either end as follows: one shot on the first target, eight shots on the second target, six shots on the third target, and six shots on the fourth target. The math is easy. That's 21 shots but with only 20 rounds loaded between the rifle and both revolvers the rifle has to be reloaded on the clock. Normally that wouldn't rattle me, as I would fire the rifle until empty then conservatively load the extra round through the loading gate, lever and fire. But now I decided to try something I had never done. Since you could load the extra round any time after firing the first shot, I decided to fire my revolvers first and then load the extra round in the rifle before picking it up. I had checked to make sure 11 rounds would fit in the magazine. At the buzzer I fired one shot at the closest target with my first revolver and then emptied it on the second target. Drawing my second revolver I placed four more shots on the second target for a total of eight and put the last shot on target number three. Now I attempted to load the extra round into my rifle but it wouldn't go in the loading gate. In my struggle the round slipped from my fingers and fell off the table. So, I picked up the rifle and fired five shots at the third target and five more at the fourth target. Now I had to pull a round from my belt but when I attempted to load it over the top into the chamber I accidentally nudged the lever which lifted the carrier and the round got stuck. After inverting the rifle, I removed the round from the carrier, closed the lever, loaded the round through the loading gate and fired it at the last target and missed! I then moved to finish by firing my four shotgun shells at other targets. Lesson learned: never try something new at a major match. It cost me 53 seconds instead of 35, which I had been averaging until then, a clean match and, finally a third-place buckle.

Saturday evening found folks in their finest period clothing at the awards banquet returning this year to the Gillespie County Farm Bureau. The dinner featuring chicken and pulled pork was catered by Don Strange Ranch. The banquet featured the always popular "stretch raffle" as well as registered shooter drawings for guns, gift cards, gift certificates and more. Participants also had a chance to purchase playing cards in a double-deck card raffle Thursday through Saturday for a chance to win an engraved Cimarron 7th Cavalry marked Single Action Revolver with charcoal blue accents. The drawing for this handsome 4¾-inch barreled .38 Special revolver was held during the banquet with proceeds benefiting the SASS Scholarship Fund. Handlebar Bob (SASS #4650) once again served as Master of Ceremonies for the banquet. Yours truly, assisted by Skinny (SASS #7361) and Yankee Texan (SASS #56796) headed up the judging for the both the Shooting Costume Contest on Friday, won by Classic Cowgirl Ruby Red Rider (SASS #108589) and Classic Cowboy Wild Bill Munch (SASS #49702), and the Best Dressed Costume Contest at the Saturday night banquet. First place honors in the latter contest went to Best Dressed Lady Lil Magill (SASS #85754) in a B-Western pigskin suede prairie skirt and Lane boots; Best Dressed Gentleman Captain George Baylor (SASS #24287) wearing an authentic "Sack Suit" as a Texas politician; Best Military W. H. Bell (SASS #95532) as a Captain in the 8th Texas Confederate Cavalry and to Ruby Red Rider as Best Soiled Dove/Parlor Madam in an 1885-style blue satin dress. Wild Bill McMasters (SASS #182) and Texas Pearl (SASS #9555) again absolutely stunned the judges in the Best Dressed Couple category as Lakota Sioux Chief "Wind-in-Face" and his wife "Little Owl." Coyote Catcher (SASS #105326) as "Rusty", an abandoned 15-year-old working cowboy, captured the award for Junior Boy. Buckle awards were presented to winners in 40 categories and 33 shooters completed the match without a miss or penalty. Colorado Jackson (SASS #92770) took top honors this year as the Men's Main Match Winner completing the 10 stages in 188.96 seconds. Texican Ranger Panhandle Cowgirl (SASS #77924) returned to the podium as the overall Ladies' Match Winner with a total time of 233.72 seconds. The winners in each category and side matches are published on the Texican Rangers website.

The club leadership again did an amazing job of coordinating, revising and organizing this match especially considering it was the first time as Comancheria Days Match Director for the new President Asup Sleeve. Despite some setbacks caused by the public health concerns they made it run like clockwork. The remarkable success is also due in no small part to the hard work and dedication of the many members of the Texican Rangers club who contributed their time, sweat, and treasure over the past months to put on the match. How about you mark your calendars for April 7-9, 2022 and plan to come shoot with the Texican Rangers when we will again be celebrating Comancheria Days. ## DISPATCHES FROM CAMP BAYLOR AND NOW FOR SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT

BY CAPTAIN GEORGE BAYLOR,
SASS #24287 LIFE REGULATOR

LOGISTICS

We'll start and end with military analogies. Wars are won by logistics and lost by logistics, the art/science of getting the right supplies to the right place at the right time. So are shooting matches.

This is for those of you who are just starting to travel to SASS matches, or experienced shooters who are looking for new ideas. END of TRAIL 2021 at Etna Green, Indiana was a 1300-mile drive each way from Baylor HQ — 2919.4 miles on the trip odometer for the entire trip — solo. This required some planning (if you need a textbook example of understatement, this is it). For 13 years we attended END of TRAIL and Winter Range in our motor home. It's for sale now. We have a house in Texas. It's near the Alamo so we don't forget. The Redhead and the pets no longer attend SASS matches. I drive to major matches. This means putting all the gear into a much smaller vehicle, in this case a midsize four-door pickup, a 2020 Honda Ridgeline. It is the only such vehicle with a (hidden) trunk. It holds 7.3 cubic feet. It will hold four Cowboy match guns, three spares, a Plainsman rifle and revolvers, six Wild Bunch guns, a stool, a flag and flagpole for the gun cart, an AC3C ammo crate-(see below), and several more items with room left over. But Robert De Niro would not say you could put three bodies in the trunk (obscure movie reference). Maybe one, I haven't tried... yet.

FIREARMS SECURITY

Honda advertises it as a cooler for tailgating because it is waterproof and has drain holes with removable plugs. I was glad to learn that. I just assumed that was for the blood from the body.

I'm not trying to sell Honda Ridgelines. I just mention it because it solves one of the problems of traveling to matches, firearm security. If you shoot CAS, WB, and a few side matches, your guns can add up to five figures, plus four figures worth of leather, and probably four figures worth of clothing, especially if you do costume contests, not to mention hats, some of which can be four figures. Security becomes a high priority. We all know of people who have been robbed going to SASS matches, usually from hotel parking lots. Trucks have been stolen as well. I have a State-of-the-art security system/real time tracking/theft recovery system (not standard-equipment) that gives me a pretty good chance of getting the vehicle back. (It also can tell The Redhead where I am in real time. For some people this might not be a good idea. You've been warned.) On the other hand, insurance companies like it, and our insurance went down considerably, paying for the system pretty quickly. The tailgate and the trunk can be locked in a manner you can't open them with the key (new for 2020 I believe). You have to know the secret. A hard tonneau is locked unless the tailgate is opened. There is more, but it's on a "need to know" basis. Everything can be stolen; but making it as hard and time consuming as possible is the goal. This isn't the only vehicle that can be hardened for security. A number of shooters use a Truckvault®, which can be had for a large variety of vehicles. They also have Truckvaults that go under rear seats or replace them entirely. They are custom made and not cheap, but so are your match guns.

STEALTH

One security precaution that doesn't cost anything is not to have any stickers that indicate anything about guns. All of the vehicle related thefts of SASS gear and guns I can remember involved signs on the vehicle mentioning guns. Sadly, that means no SASS stickers. I did sneak in a "10 - 10 - 4" sticker, which is a secret handshake for SASS people.

SAFE AMMO/GEAR STORAGE

One line of products has made carrying ammunition, leather gear, and other supplies easier, MTM ammo crates (free endorsement). Most useful is Three-Can Ammo Crate .50 CAL — AC3C. This consists of a carrying crate with handles and three O-ring-sealed .50 caliber ammo cans (AC50C). Unlike military metal ammunition cans, they don't have sharp corners or rust. They also weigh less. I have one set of three for Cowboy matches and one for Wild Bunch, with a third for miscellaneous things such as Plainsman gear. I use most of the sizes they make for storage. One, (ACR-4) holds a case of shotshells in 25-round factory-style boxes. All my match ammunition is carried in MTM Shotgun boxes because Rugged Gear gun carts are designed to use shotgun boxes. A big 19" x 14" x 20" ACR12 holds the leather gear for CAS and Wild Bunch. Another holds an 1873 pattern U.S. Army dress officer's helmet for a costume.

CLOTHING MANAGEMENT

We shoot in costume. I take several costumes. (If you're one of those guys who wears the same costume every day, you can skip this part. (On the other hand, you might want to take some duplicates for a 10-day event.) This was simplified by getting a multipack of hanging suit bags from Amazon and packing the costumes for three days of Wild Bunch including warm up and a shooting costume contest, a day of warm up and Plainsman, three days of CAS main match (with a shooting costume contest), the evening best dressed costume contest, and the Saturday award ceremony, about six bags total. The costumes all lay flat on the back seat in the truck. In the hotel they went on hangers. They were labeled, which aided keeping things straight.

I kept hat boxes from D Bar J Hats and transported three hats in them. Knowing I had to stay in sometimes questionable hotels on the way (not intentionally questionable, but after examining them, yeah, and it was too late to find another), I put the clothes and gear that I needed for one night in a small soft suitcase to minimize activity around the truck.

All in all, the truck was almost completely full. There was, it turned out, enough room for the things that I might pick up at the match. You always buy something from the vendors and sometimes you need more room.

But due to COVID I also delivered a couple of items. An eight-pound container of Universal for a friend who couldn't find it at home, and of course couldn't ship it or fly with it. Another MTM ammo crate carried black powder shot shells for someone who couldn't find primers.

Most of the people going to EOT and Land Run (next year's national championship) drive relatively long distances. Plan, plan, plan, checklist, checklist, checklist, but remember another military analogy, No plan survives first contact.

BONUS — RUBY RED RIDER'S BUCKLE SLIDE

running stage. I hate it when that happens. One solution is a buckle slide to fit over your gun belt or your shotgun belt. So for a while I've gotten slides for buckles I wanted to wear occasionally. The slide pretty much has to be custom built for the buckle. EOT and Winter Range top 10 buckles are not the same lengths between bar and prong. The variations, at least in my collection, make one size fits all not workable.

Ruby Red Rider made me a slide that will fit a range of buckles. The sample is very well-made. It snaps over the belt so you don't have to remove a holster to install or remove it. With this year's EOT buckle, which is well-designed, the big ball on the prong needs to be pushed on hard, but it won't open and drop your gunbelt should you use it as intended. The slide will come with a series of holes for the prong, so it might fit multiple buckles. My slide was ordered for the 2021 EOT Top Ten buckle but fits my 2003 Best Dressed Military buckle and several others. Give Ruby Red Rider the A and B dimensions of your longest and shortest buckle, and dimension C, the width of the belt, and she can tell you if you need one buckle or two. ## SANTA ANNA'S MISSING LIMB

BY BIG DAVE, SASS #55632

Most of us remember Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna as the brute who ordered the execution of the survivors of the Battle of the Alamo during the Texas Revolution. He also ordered a massacre of prisoners at Goliad a few weeks later. It is also well known that he surrendered to Sam Houston after the Battle of San Jacinto in April 1836. However, not many know he was in and out of power eleven times and his influence was so pervasive that in Mexico, the period of the mid-nineteenth century is known as the Age of Santa Anna. During this time, Mexico was basically a failed state and its only real sense of continuity was Santa Anna himself, but his influence came at considerable personal cost.

Following his defeat at San Jacinto in 1836, Santa Anna was deposed as President of Mexico, which hardly comes as a surprise. He spent some time in exile in the United States but returned to Mexico in 1837. Officially he was retired, but an opportunity soon arrived for him to reinvent himself. In 1838, Mexico became involved in an obscure conflict with France which became known as the Pastry War. Mexico needed an experienced military commander at the time. Despite his defeat in Texas, Santa Anna was able to step up to the plate, mostly because nobody else would do it.

The Pastry War came about because Mexico was unable to pay the damages French citizens had suffered during Mexico's interminable disturbances. One of the claims involved a French pastry chef in the town of Tacubaya whose restaurant had been sacked by a bunch of drunken Mexican officers, hence the name. In those days, a nation that did not pay its debts was likely to be attacked and the French navy bombarded a Mexican fortress, which promptly surrendered. The Mexican government declared war on France and the people of Mexico, many of whom were confused about the whole thing, chanted "Down with the Jews!" and "Down with the Anglo-Saxons!"

Santa Anna was many things, but he was not a coward. He appeared at the head of his troops to confront the French at Veracruz. The assault failed and a cannon ball shattered his left leg, necessitating its amputation. The French were eventually promised payment, the war ended, and the maimed general became a hero. Santa Anna had landed on his feet again—well, his foot anyway, and was able to reenter politics. Although physically detached from his leg, he retained some affection for it and had it buried at his hacienda.

In 1842, Santa Anna became President of Mexico again. He decided his amputated leg deserved some respect, so he had it exhumed and brought to Mexico City in a fabulous coach. There the desiccated limb received an elaborate funeral replete with poetry, speeches, and cannon salvos. It was buried beneath an appropriately majestic monument.

Several centuries earlier, Niccolò Machiavelli wrote “this can be said of men in general: they are ungrateful, fickle, hypocrites and dissemblers.” In 1844, Santa Anna fell out of favor again (by then, he had been president about seven times non-consecutively) and somebody came up with the bright idea to desecrate his appendage. A mob appeared at his leg’s resting place, toppled the monument, dug it up and dragged it through the streets while chanting “Death to the cripple!” Whatever was left of the leg was devoured by feral dogs. Santa Anna had to flee for his life and nearly lost it again when he was captured by a tribe of Indians who were rumored to be cannibals. He was eventually rescued and exiled to Cuba.

Under the agreement he made with his rescuers, Santa Anna was supposed to stay out of Mexico for ten years. However, he did not remain in Cuba for very long. Things had been heating up with Mexico’s neighbor to the north. On March 1, 1845, U.S. President John Tyler signed a bill that would eventually admit the independent Republic of Texas as part of the United States. This outraged the Mexican government. Tyler’s successor, James K. Polk had even bigger plans.

Polk envisioned a United States that stretched “from sea to shining sea” and his vision was shared by many other Americans. Ideally, this could be achieved through diplomacy. Polk offered to purchase the territories of New Mexico and California from Mexico, but the Mexican government refused the offer. Polk reasoned if the United States didn’t get those territories, another country would obtain them. Mexico was weak and in those days weak countries were attacked and ultimately dismembered. (Somewhere Santa Anna is laughing at this observation.) Plan B was about to be unfurled.

It is hard to not admire James Polk. He was no dummy. He is, in my opinion, one of our most underrated presidents. The southern border of Texas was in dispute. Mexico claimed the border was the Nueces River. The Texas Republic had claimed its southern border was the Rio Grande. Naturally, when Texas became an American state, the U.S. supported the Texans’ claim. If negotiation failed, there was always Plan B, which involved war as “the extension of politics with the addition of other means.” The problem with Plan B is war can lead to unforeseen consequences, as Americans would learn less than a generation later. Bitter arguments erupted over the territory gained from the Mexican War and ultimately led to the U.S. Civil War.

In July 1845 Polk sent 4,000 troops under the command of General Zachary Taylor into the disputed territory between the Nueces and Rio Grande rivers. Negotiations for the sale of California and New Mexico territories broke down and Taylor’s force was attacked in May 1846. Shortly afterward, Congress declared war on Mexico.

Santa Anna was still in Cuba when the war broke out and offered his services once again to the Mexican government. Unknown to the Mexican president, Santa Anna had been secretly negotiating with U.S. representatives for the sale of all the disputed territories. The wily general managed to get a two million dollar down payment and passage through the American blockade into Mexico. Once he was back in his native land, he took command of the Mexican army. He had never intended to do anything else. Gloating over how easily he had tricked the Americans, he kept the two million for himself.

Under Santa Anna, the Mexican army put up a spirited but doomed defense. Losing battle after battle, the Mexican army continued to fight on. Santa Anna lost his leg again (the prosthesis) when it was captured after the Battle of Cerro Gordo by the 4th Illinois regiment. It was taken back to the United States as a war trophy and now resides in the Illinois State Military Museum. There is a continued controversy surrounding the artificial limb. Mexico would like to have it returned, but Illinois won’t give it up. Santa Anna also lost his spare peg leg to the Illinois troops. Apparently, it was used as a baseball bat by the troops before being taken to the home of future governor Richard Oglesby who served in the 4th Illinois. The lamentable saga of Santa Anna’s lost limb is beginning to look like a Rodney Dangerfield comic routine. His original leg and its prostheses got no respect.

The general’s last fight against the United States occurred in the fall of 1847. This became known as the Battle of Huamantla. Guess what? Santa Anna's troops lost. As you can imagine, it was time for him to step down again. Like the feral dogs three years previously, Mexico City was "fed up" with Santa Anna. He spent the next five years in exile, this time in Jamaica and Colombia.

Any other man would just retire to womanizing, cock fighting, money making schemes, and whatnot, but Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna still hoped to get a leg up on the situation. In 1853 there was another revolt in Mexico fomented by conservative members of the Catholic Church. In return for granting and maintaining privileges for the clergy, he was invited back to lead Mexico for his final and eleventh stint in office. Santa Anna modestly assumed the title of "Hero of the Nation, Grand Master of the National and Distinguished Order of Guadalupe, Grand Cross of the Royal and Distinguished Order of Carlos III, and President of the Mexican Republic." Two years later he was out of favor again, this time for arranging the sale of the Gadsden Purchase to the United States. (This is where the present-day cities of Yuma and Tucson are located.) He spent the next 19 years of his life in exile in Cuba, Colombia, the United States, and Saint Thomas.

Santa Anna attempted to return to Mexico in 1865 during the Maximilian Affair, but was told "thanks, but no thanks." by the Mexican resistance. He eventually did return to his native land in 1874 and died there two years later at the age of 82. He would have been pleased to know he received an elaborate funeral. It wasn't as grandiose as the one he gave his amputated leg, but it wasn't shabby either. Although Santa Anna served his country imperfectly to say the least, his patriotism was never in doubt.

SMITH AND WESSON NO. 1 AND NO. 2 TIP UP REVOLVERS.

SMITH & WESSON NO. 3 REVOLVERS COLT'S BIGGEST RIVAL IN THE OLD WEST. PART ONE — IN THE BEGINNING

BY TUOLUMNE LAWMAN, SASS
#6127

Through the years, Hollywood and television have created the somewhat false illusion of the cowboys, lawmen, and outlaws of the Old West braving and battling on the Frontier, all armed with their trusty 1873 Colt Single Action Army revolvers. While there is some truth in this image, in reality 1873s were almost outnumbered by a dizzying variety of different handguns. For example, most people — unless they are students of Old West weaponry — do not realize Smith and Wesson's No. 3 revolvers were introduced before Colt's 1873 Single Action Army and were second only to the Colt in popularity and proliferation in the American West in the last half of the 19th Century.

In fact, the Smith and Wesson No. 3 .44 caliber American Model was adopted as the US Army's first center fire issue production revolver in 1870, three years prior to the actual adoption of the 1873 Colt as the standard US Army sidearm! (The Army had contracted for Remington New Model Army percussion revolvers that were converted to .46 rim fire, which were issued on a limited basis starting in 1867/1868) Once again in 1875, the Army adopted another Smith and Wesson No. 3, the .45 Schofield Model, as a substitute standard for the Colt 1873 Single Action Army. These two Smith and Wesson revolvers had the advantage of being a break-top design, ejecting all the empties simultaneously, and allowing the faster loading of fresh cartridges. This was much faster than the "eject 'em and load 'em one at a time" Colt.

ORIGINS OF THE SMITH & WESSON NO. 3 TOP BREAKS

ship of Smith and Wesson was fortunate enough to hold the Rollin White Patent for the bored through cylinder. This was a necessity to produce revolvers using the newly developed self-contained metallic cartridges. After selling off the rights to Volcanic repeating firearms (later to evolve into the Henry Rifle) to Oliver Winchester in 1859, S&W developed their top-hinged No. 1 .22 caliber rim fire revolver. It was a fairly weak design, though, and the black powder .22 round lacked power.

When the Civil War broke out in 1861, the No. 1 was popular with Union officers, even though it was a small seven shot pocket pistol. Realizing the need for a more powerful sidearm, but still hampered by the weak top hinge design, S&W introduced the No. 2, or "Model 2 Army." It was a larger version of the No. 1 in a somewhat more potent .32 rim fire cartridge. The No. 2 held six shots, had a 6 inch barrel, and was considered "belt model." A short time later, they also introduced their No. 11/2. It was a five-shot .32 rim fire that combined the small size of the No. 1 with the larger caliber of the 6-shot No. 2. Throughout the Civil War, the No. 1, No. 1 1/2, and No. 2 were the only metallic cartridge revolvers that saw general usage.

BIRTH OF THE NO. 3 TOP BREAK — THE AMERICAN MODEL

After the end of hostilities between North and South, the expansion westward with its own variety of hostilities prompted S&W to re-examine their pistol line. Virtually all revolvers in use in the west, with the exception of their own No. 1 and 2 tip ups, were percussion designs. The 1851 and 1860 Colts, the New Model Army (1858) Remington, Star, Spiller and Burr, and Dance Brothers were still more popular than the diminutive S&Ws because of their far superior stopping power over the small rim fires. After all, would you want to face a pack of howling renegades or banditos with a .22 or .32 rim fire revolver?

S&W applied their Rollin White patent to a new "top break" design named the No. 3. Instead of the barrel tipping up, like the earlier revolvers, the frame of this significantly larger handgun was hinged at the bottom and the barrel tipped down. The action was opened by grasping the top of the barrel and cylinder with the non-shooting hand and using the thumb and index finger to grasp and pull up the latch behind the cylinder, allowing the barrel to tip down, activating a star-shaped ejector in the middle of the cylinder face, and ejecting all six shells simultaneously. All six chambers in the cylinder were fully exposed for easy loading of six fresh rounds. With the earlier "tip up" Smith and Wessons, you had to remove the cylinder and push out each empty from the cylinder one at a time. There was a rod used for this protruding from the frame (under the barrel). The new No. 3 revolver was the first metallic cartridge revolver in history to eject all empty cases at once.

A 19TH CENTURY IRON PLOW — IT INSPIRED THE NICKNAME FOR THE AMERICAN'S DISTINCTIVE GRIPS.

The No. 3 revolver was originally offered in .44 Flat/Henry Rimfire. The .44 rimfire had either a 210-grain flat point Stetson bullet over 28 grains of black powder, or the original Henry loading of a 216-grain conical lead bullet over a charge of 26 grains of black powder. (The No. 3 top break revolver would later be called the “American Model,” after the release of the No. 3 “Russian Model” in 1871.) The No. 3 Model S&W had a six-shot cylinder, an eight-inch barrel, and a large distinctive “Plow Handle” grip that actually resembled the handles on 19th Century horse-drawn iron plows. Released in 1870, the S&W No. 3 revolver was quickly submitted by Smith and Wesson to the Army Ordnance Board for trials.

US MILITARY USAGE OF THE AMERICAN MODEL

The Ordnance Board was very impressed with the new Smith and Wesson revolver, but suggested it be chambered in a center fire round to increase reliability of ignition. In response to this request, S&W created a new S&W .44 center fire (American) round. It was essentially a center fire version of the .44 Flat rim fire. Like the .44 Flat, it had an outside-lubed bullet (where the bullet is the same diameter as the case, with a rebated bullet base crimped in the case mouth — like a modern .22 rim fire). In the military loading, it had a .432-inch diameter, 225-grain lead bullet that was propelled by about 25 grains of black powder. The S&W .44 American subsequently developed a well-earned reputation as a fairly reliable fight stopper. It was superior to both the .36 and .44 caliber percussion revolvers, with their lighter round ball bullets. When you also factored in the tremendous increase in speed and ease of loading, it was impossible for the No. 3 S&W to not be a success.

When it was released, many Officers and enlisted men preferred the Smith & Wesson No. 3's to the much slower to load Colt Model of 1860 .44 percussion revolvers they had been issued. While the US Army bought about 2,000 No.3 Americans for issue, large numbers were also privately purchased by the troops. The No. 3 S&W's were carried in many engagements against Native Americans long before the Colt 1873 Single Action Army was widely issued.

FOREIGN SALES — THE RUSSIAN MODEL, A COMMERCIAL SUCCESS

Smith and Wesson's biggest supporters, however, were not who you would expect. In 1871, General Alexander Gorloff, the Russian Military Attaché in Washington D.C. was so impressed, the Russian Government eventually ordered more than 131,000 of S&W Model No. 3s. These “Russian Models” had some minor changes, including a change to an inside-lubed cartridge. While the First Model Russian had the large "Plow Handle" grip of the American Model, Second Model Russians had a smaller grip, much the same configuration of today's J and K Frames with round butts. A hook-like spur was also added to the bottom of the trigger guard. Some say the spur was for the middle finger to increase stability, others say it was to keep the pistol from slipping down too far when it was slipped inside the waistband, and some say it was to hook the frame against a saddle pommel to steady the pistol during reloading. Whatever the case, the true purpose of the curious spur is probably lost to history!

In 1871, Grand Duke Alexis of Russia came to the U.S. to check on the sidearms they had ordered. He was presented with a fancy engraved No.3 by the factory that cost more than $400 to make. That was a huge sum of money in those days. Alexis went on a buffalo-hunting trip (paid for by the U.S. Government) with Buffalo Bill Cody, General Phil Sheridan, and George Armstrong Custer. While he was on this hunting trip, he was impressed with Cody's skill with his pair of S&W No. 3 American Models. In the end however, Russia did reverse engineer the No. 3 Russians, producing unlicensed copies at their own arsenals. This caused S&W some financial hardship.

Russia, however, was not the only country that bought large numbers of Smith & Wesson revolvers for their militaries. Russian Models were also bought by the governments of Turkey and Japan in the late 1800s. Australia even bought S&W No. 3 revolvers in quantity for their South Australia Police. While Smith & Wesson was disappointed that the US military did not buy Schofields in the numbers they anticipated, its foreign sales more than made up for it, and in the end made Smith & Wesson No. 3s a financial success for them.

The .44 Russian cartridge, with its .429 caliber, 246-grain lead bullet pushed by about 24 grains of FFG was known as a very reliable fight stopper. Unlike the .44 American, which had a reputation for mediocre accuracy, the .44 Russian proved itself to be extremely accurate. It was first choice for competition target shooters in the 1870s, 1880s, one even the 1890s. In fact, the .44 Russian round eventually “grew up” to be the .44 Special, and later into Elmer Keith’s brainchild, the Remington .44 Magnum.

SASS GOES INTO SPACE!

BY TEX, SASS #4

Van Horn, TX – Jeff Bezos recently rode his Blue Origin New Shepard rocket into space ... but he didn't do it alone! One of his honored guests along for the ride was Wally Funk (AKA Taos Kid, SASS Life #5939). Wally is currently living in the Dallas area and was born in Las Vegas, NM. She trained and qualified to fly for NASA during the very early days of the Mercury program, but the prevailing attitude at the time was it just wasn't appropriate for a woman to blaze a trail into space.

Wally met Judge Roy Bean, SASS #1, and Justice Lily Kate, SASS #1000, some 20+ years ago and acquired one of the Judge's #1 SASS badges to take into space with her when the opportunity presented itself. Some five years ago she was in her late 70s and finally lost hope. She returned the badge.

It was a bolt out of the blue when Jeff Bezos invited her to join him and his brother on the very first trip to space in New Shepard with live passengers on board! She became the oldest person to travel in space, and the other special passenger, Oliver Daemen, became the youngest. She was absolutely elated with the invitation and exclaimed, "I've been waiting a long time to get up there!"

This was a thrill of a lifetime and the culmination of a life-long dream. SASS is proud to have her as part of our extended family!

My objective is to graduate from high school, attend Penn State, major in Wildlife and Fisheries Sciences and minor in Forestry so I may pursue a career in conservation of our natural resources. I chose this career field because I feel very passionate about the conservation. A few years ago, I attended the National Wildlife Habitat Evaluation Program Competition with 4-H. After I attended that competition, I attended the Wildlife Leadership Academy. Between these two events, the number of people I met that were in positions that not only allowed them to work with animals but also the public was incredible. Every single person I with whom I spoke loved what they were doing and always being surprised by what their workday brought them. Up until that point, I wasn't positive of where I wanted to go in terms of a career path, but speaking with these people helped to spark in me a determination to work to conserve nature. My goal in entering a career in conservation is to be able to work with animals and educate the public, both youth and adults, on the importance of conservation of our natural resources and the protection of these resources and our wildlife. I also plan to continue to help promote the 4-H program.

BRUSH POPPER MAY 24, 1949 – JULY 2, 2021

BY AUSTIN TAYSHUS, SASS
#14094 AND CAT TRACKER,
SASS #9624

SASS has lost a true pioneer in the sport of Cowboy Action Shooting™. Roy Wheeler (Brush Popper, SASS #2422) passed away suddenly on July 2 after shooting Hell on Wheels in Cheyenne, WY. He shot well and enjoyed the company of his shooting pals on his last day. Brush Popper had a history in the shooting sports. He helped organize shoots in IPSC, Bowling Pin, Steel Matches, and Action Pistol before he and his good buddy, Fearless Fred (SASS #2504) were introduced to CAS in 1988.

They started holding matches at the Ben Lomond Gun Club, which was then near Palmer Lake, CO. At that time, they used one revolver, one rifle, and one shotgun, with the targets set relatively far out. There were a lot of props and a lot of shenanigans. This was the start of CAS along the Front Range in Colorado. He went on to help form the High Plains Regulators, which shot out of Pueblo and served on their board for many years. Their monthly matches were very successful, consistently drawing 60-80 shooters. The High Plains Regulators taught many shooters how to write stages, run a match, and in general how to shoot Cowboy Action.

Their annual matches were also very successful, with shooters coming from all over the US. Many top shooters got their start at this club, most notably, perhaps, two young boys named Cobra Cat and Lightning Cat, who both went on to win multiple State, National, and World Championships.

Brush Popper is survived by his wife Anna (Trigger Treat, SASS #32154), his son Steven and daughter-in-law Courtney. He was a devoted grandfather to his two granddaughters Alysa and Kristin, teaching them both how to shoot. Alysa is getting ready to join SASS as Popper's Treat. We're all sorry Brush Popper won't be around to see it.

His many friends will miss him — his sense of humor, his work ethic, his leadership, and most of all, his friendship. Happy Trails, Brush Popper.

CHEROKEE CLOUD

BY SILVER CLOUD, SASS#103586

I report with great sadness the passing of Rob Hilliard (Cherokee Cloud, SASS #36051), of Whitehouse, Texas. Rob was born on November 20, 1942 to Robert and Lois Hilliard in Evansville, IN and died like a Cowboy at the Highway 31 Shooting Range in Tyler, Texas on March 8, 2021 at the age of 78. After spending several hours testing out repaired guns, he took a shot and fell to the ground, boots on, gun in his hand.

After four years in the Navy in the late 50s and early 60s he returned to Texas and married Carmen McGuire, gaining an instant family of four with one more to add shortly thereafter. He spent more than 45 years in car parts management, indulging in most physical sports available. He was also into gunsmithing and began Cowboy Action Shooting™ more than 20 years ago. He was a member of Oakwood Outlaws in Oakwood, Texas as well as Old Fort Parker Patriots in Groesbeck, Texas. Cherokee was well known for his collection of stories of his life adventures. After 49 years of marriage, Carmen passed away on July, 2013. Cherokee and I were reintroduced after both of us had lost our spouses. We had known each other for more than a decade, both being members of West Erwin Church of Christ in Tyler, Texas. Although we were married for only six-and-a-half years, we loved and lived a lifetime together. Cherokee, it is just not the same without you!

DIRTY ROTTEN RAY JULY 9, 1967 - JUNE 17, 2021

BY DOC ALTMAN, SASS #74468

The cowboy community of Eastern Kentucky is mourning the loss of Dirty Rotten Ray. Born Jerry Dwayne Ray on, Dirty Rotten Ray was a founding member of The Levisa Fork Lead Slingers, SASS's Cowboy club in Pikeville, Kentucky, as well as the president of its parent club, the East Kentucky Sportsman's Association. Jerry served his country as an Army combatant in the Gulf War and proudly displayed the First Cavalry insignia carved into the stock of his favorite Winchester '97.

While he liked to assume the persona of an outlaw evil-doer, Dirty Rotten Ray was a kind and gentle soul. A man of infinite patience, he was instrumental in introducing many youngsters to our sport and then mentoring them in the Cowboy Way. He was a skilled, self-taught gunsmith and reloader who spent many long nights at his bench to ensure that everyone would have enough ammo to shoot come Saturday morning.

A decade ago, Dirty Rotten persuaded several members of the Levisa Fork Lead Slingers to begin traveling to shoot with other SASS clubs. Our group of roaming Cowboys became known as "The Dirty Rotten Gang" and traveling to CAS and Wild Bunch competitions quickly became his passion. Over the years, he visited numerous clubs in Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Alabama, and Texas, and made friends everywhere he went. The good folks at Ponderosa Pines and Hooten Old Town soon became like a second Cowboy family to him.

While the Dirty Rotten Gang had often discussed renting an RV and trying to attend an END of TRAIL at Founder's Ranch in New Mexico, it was an ambitious dream that never came to fruition. When SASS changed the venue of EOT in 2021 to Etna Green, Indiana, Dirty Rotten Ray lead the charge for our group to attend. We planned the trip over Mexican food and iced tea and stayed in constant contact with each other throughout registration on the morning of February 8 with hopes we would all make the cut. Fortunately, we did. While we were all looking forward to the trip, none of us were more excited about it than Dirty Rotten.

On the morning of June 17, just four days before we were slated to depart for EOT, we received news that Dirty Rotten Ray had suddenly passed away. We discussed canceling the trip, but it was quickly agreed upon by all that Dirty Rotten would not have wanted that. Following his memorial service, which was held at our club's gun range on Monday, June 20, we departed for Indiana.

Dirty Rotten Ray seemed to keep time with a broken pocket watch, for he was perpetually late to most everything. It was a long-standing joke among the Levisa Fork Lead Slingers, "Is that real time or Dirty Rotten time?" One thing is certain — he left his saddle much too early.

BY SLING LEAD, SASS #64203

Robert B. Haverkamp (Flinch Lock), of Cheyenne, WY passed away peacefully on October 24, 2021 at age 66. He was born to Albert and Levine (Thiele) Haverkamp in Remsen, IA on March 9, 1955. Robert was a 1973 graduate of St. Mary's High School. He was a Navy veteran and earned a degree in Wireless Technology from Western Iowa Tech.

He was united in marriage to Patty Dewey on April 2, 1983 and together they had two sons, Corey Haverkamp of Buffalo, MN and Cody Haverkamp of Cheyenne, WY. Though his marriage he was blessed with two stepsons, Jerry Blackbird of Minneapolis, MN and Lloyd Blackbird of Riverton, WY, and a step daughter, Meghan Reilly of Texas.

Flinch had many interesting occupations throughout his full life, including being a technician for Union Wireless. He retired in 2019. What he enjoyed most was being in the great outdoors. He loved camping, fishing, kayaking, building projects, horseback riding, and especially Cowboy Action Shooting™. He was a member of SASS and met many dear friends through this association. Being a "Frontiersman" was a way of life for Bob and he will be remembered by many in that way.

He was preceded in death by his wife Patty, his parents, sister Theresa (in infancy), nephew Corey, and sister-in-laws Donna Haverkamp and Lind Haverkamp. Left to cherish his memory are his sons Corey and Cody Haverkamp; stepsons Jerry and Lloyd Blackbird; granddaughter Pearl; beloved friend Kris Schiffmann; siblings Jude Haverkamp, Ann (Dave) Ruden, Jean (Al) Erichson, and Paul Haverkamp; along with numerous nieces and nephews, and his horse Buggs.

OLD SLAPOUT, SASS #9198

BY TAYLOR CONNOR

My name is Taylor. My Grandfather's name is James Connor, better known as Old Slapout. He has been a member of SASS for 25 years. (He actually just received his 25-year lapel pin in the mail.) When I was growing up, he would take me to matches with him. Those are some of my fondest memories as a young girl.

My grandfather was a leather man by love and by trade. As child I would sit on his leather bench with him while he made holsters, belts, butt stock covers, lever covers, and the list goes on. There is nothing he couldn't make out of leather.

He started selling his leather goods and over the years he received hundreds and thousands of orders from all over the world. He hand made, hand dyed, and hand sewed every holster, every butt stock cover and every belt. Everything was custom made. Some things are just made better when they're made with love.

James Connor exuded kindness and generosity and his love for guns. My grandparents would have been married 62 years this September. Their love for one another was something special.

My grandfather went to be with the Lord this July, 2021. He was my best friend and my rock. It was a moment I was never going to be ready for and I am never going to get used to him being gone. Leather was always where I would find him. He loved SASS and their members. But that was my "Pop," Old Slapout. Kind, generous, knowledgeable, proud yet humble, hard working, and talented. I am honored to share with you a little of who Old Slapout was and the dedication, love, and service he gave to SASS and all their members the last 25 years. I know he is in heaven now with all his bird dogs and his favorite Rugers.

He is survived by his mother Nina Conn; daughter Deborah Zedler; son Michael Wilkerson; sister Patsy Davidson; half-brothers, Wynn Wilkerson, Johnny Wilkerson, and Mark Wilkerson; grandchildren, Eric Ray Zedler, and Clifton James “CJ” Kelley. He was preceded in death by his loving wife of fifty-four years, Joyce Wilkerson, and by his father.

The Texan was well known for his golf cart converted into a mobile Gun Cart. He was a valued member of the Tejas Caballeros Shooting Club and will be missed very much.

WILDCAT BOB, SASS #79016
9/3/46-7/12/21

BY CIRCUIT JUDGE, SASS #20823

It is always difficult to announce the passing of a friend. The words just don't seem to be enough to share the level of loss his family and friends are feeling.

I first met Robert Arthur Williamson (Wildcat Bob) at the Green Mountain Regulators outside Marble Falls, Texas back in 2012. He and his wife Jackie had moved to the Central Texas area from Illinois in retirement. Wildcat was an avid shooter of many disciplines, a hunter and fisherman. He would later serve as President of the Green Mountain Regulators. I believe Wildcat Bob's favorite shooting venues were Sporting Clays, Cowboy Action Shooting™, and Long Range shooting with Buffalo long guns. The last time I shot with him was at monthly Long Range match at Green Mountain.

I can assure you that whatever Wildcat Bob was doing, he was into it 110 percent!. In his later years of shooting Cowboy Action, he was all about shooting the Frontiersman Class. He was really into the Holy Black and was a fierce competitor.

Wildcat Bob passed away unexpectedly at his home in Highland Haven, Texas at the age of 74. He is survived by his wife Jackie, brother Larry, sons David and Michael, daughter-law Sarah and his three grand kids Aubrey, Kathryn, and Riley. He is an Army veteran, having served in Vietnam. He had a 30-year career as a Fish and Wildlife Biologist for the State of Illinois. After retirement from the State of Illinois, he started his own company in Aquatic Management until his final retirement is 2012.

Wildcat was a trained shooting coach who worked part time at his local shooting range. He did this for the joy of introducing new shooters to the hobbies he loved. The Central Texas Cowboy Action clubs have lost a great friend and competitor.

Via Con Dios my friend, you will be greatly missed.

THE Cowboy CHRONICLE

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

The Cowboy Chronicle welcomes and encourages submissions of articles and match reports from any and all readers.

Please submit articles in MS Word or something compatible. Open Office and Apple Pages (saved as MS Word) are also fine. A count of 500-800 words is a good target to shoot for, but shorter pieces are also fine. Match reports on larger events, like END of TRAIL, Winter Range, and Regional and Divisional matches may run 1000-1500 words if necessary. We will accept lengthier articles, but may choose to break them up into two or more parts to run in consecutive issues, or heavily edit them.

Please do not embed your photos in the Word document. They can be extracted for use in the The Cowboy Chronicle, but it can be a chore to do that. Instead, send your photos separately, in one or more emails, as attachments. Three to six photos per email usually works best. It's best to send JPEGs, but other formats are acceptable, and it's best to keep them at about 300 dpi and 3000 pixels (10 inches) on the short side. That size is ideal and will allow us plenty of leeway when it comes to cropping and adjusting them for publication. Photos should be at least 1000 pixels on the short side to be used for publication. If you're unsure of the size of your pictures, or how to size them, send what you have and we'll adjust them and/or inform you if they're usable.

Usually, two to six photos are sufficient for an article, but we will consider using more for a "big" event, if provided. Photos need not have captions, but captions always make photos more interesting. Ideally, the caption would consist of one or two sentences that say something about the picture that is not obvious and/or is not implicit in the body of the article. "Sam making smoke" is a title but not a caption. "Sam, SASS #XXXXX, shooting his first black powder match; after much deliberation, he decided to give it a try and now he's hooked" is much better. A caption may also serve to let everyone know why the picture is worthy of being published in an international magazine.

Please use editor@sassnet.com for all article submissions.
